

Museum of Pearls, Dubai, U.A.E.

Summary of Relevant Projects International

Above Plan and section of the Museum
Right View of the Pearl Economy gallery

The Museum of Pearls, presently under construction, is designed to house the collection of Sultan Ali Al-Owais and will represent the largest display of natural pearls in the world. Located within the headquarters of the National Bank of Dubai, the museum will also include displays of traditional diving equipment, artefacts related to pearl dealing, and historic currency of the region. The Museum of Pearls is scheduled for completion in 2002.

Below View of the Pearl Collection gallery

